MEETING WITH THE PRESIDENT . . . of Iceland, Dr. Francois D'Albert of GSU's Division of Fine and Performing Arts, discusses plans for bringing the "Scandinavia Today" traveling exhibit to the United States in 1982. President Vigdis Finnbogadottir met with D'Albert in the Presidential Palace in Reykjavik, Iceland on September 8. Dr. and Mrs. D'Albert, the former Beverly DeFries, visited Iceland while on their honeymoon. They also met with the family of the former Prime Minister of Luxembourg and noted Icelandic musicians. The photograph was taken by Beverly D'Albert.

SALM DUO TO APPEAR AT GSU . . . On October 17, a concert of piano and cello music will be featured at 8 p.m. in the Music Recital Hall when the Salm Duo performs music spanning four centuries. Erna Salm and her daughter Susan will combine their talents in concert. Tickets: $2, public; $1, GSU faculty/staff/Alumni Assoc. members; GSU students, free.

IS 1984 ONLY FOUR YEARS AWAY? . . . Are developments in communication technology bringing us to or saving us from the Orwellian vision of individuals, groups and societies? Those and other questions will be probed at the two-day New Communication Technology Symposium, October 18-19, at GSU. As part of the symposium activities, the first earth satellite ground station in the South Chicago area, will be installed at GSU October 13, enabling monitors throughout the University to carry Ted Turner's Cable News Network, the first 24-hour news network, live throughout the week and during the symposium. It will relay signals from Atlanta directly to GSU via RCA's Satcom I satellite 22,000 miles in space.

The symposium's keynote speaker, Martin Agronsky, news analyst and award-winning Public Broadcasting Service TV commentator, will begin at 9:15 a.m., Saturday, October 18. He has also been a reporter, analyst or commentator for all three major commercial TV networks.

The Sunday sessions will be devoted exclusively to cable television and will include a case study and debate on cable TV in Chicago. Registration is still open to the general public for all or part of the symposium, on a first-come, first-served basis. The workshop fee for the two
